Along the Trail

President's Corner

With one weekend trail crew behind us, and another coming up this week, we are geared up and ready for the coming summer. It is gratifying to see that most of the crews are filled or overfilled, that the enthusiasm for the Colorado Trail is still with us, that your care and dedication will bring a lot of joy and fulfillment to hundreds of users this summer.

We are on the brink of change, changing goals in another couple of summers from construction to maintenance, from route finding to trail monitoring. We are identifying trailheads and parking lots, water development sites and conflict areas. We are pursuing educational functions on the trail, from accredited courses to nature walks, user activities and conducted hikes. We are expanding our educational give-aways and attending more informational functions.

There is always a need for additional volunteers on our many committees. Without the dedicated volunteers the trail and its many activities couldn’t function as an ALL VOLUNTEER ORGANIZATION. I invite you to become a member AND SHARE IN THE PRIDE OF THE COLORADO TRAIL!

FRIENDS OF THE COLORADO TRAIL
CT WEEKEND HIKE
Saturday/Sunday September 22-23

This is an overnight with support! Two hard days for the hardy...just hiking with a day pack. We will hike two VERY scenic days. Starting at Breckenridge, we will hike over the Tenmile Range to Copper Mountain. We are negotiating an overnight at a condo in Copper Mountain and then continue our hike from there on Sunday morning up Guller Creek, over Searle Pass, through the tundra on the newly built trail to Kokomo Pass and then drop down into Camp Hale. We will be picked up at Camp Hale and brought back to our cars at Copper Mountain. Condo is optional for those that have campers or wish to camp. Cost depends on condo price. W/O condo possibly $28 (5 meals). About 12 or 13 miles on Saturday and 16 miles on Sunday. Beautiful views. This is the height of the aspen season time and should be a wonderful time to hike. If you’re interested in attending, call Gudy (526-0809) or write the Colorado Trail Foundation, 548 Pine Song Trail, Golden CO 80401.
KENOSHA PASS HIKE AND PICNIC
Saturday September 29 - All Day

At last we have a special event for our honored contributors. Without you we could not exist. You are as important as the volunteer trail crews and volunteer maintenance groups. We are planning a hike on Saturday September 29 from the top of Kenosha Pass down to the Beaver Ponds (5.8 miles) and be picked up at the Beaver Ponds and brought back to Kenosha Pass campground. Here we will have a picnic with hamburgers, hot dogs, potato salad, beans and homemade ice cream. The cost of five dollars includes the transportation back to the pass and the picnic. We will have experts in flowers and birds along, talk about the geology and history of the area. It should be a fun morning. Be at Kenosha Pass by 9:45 A.M. (or earlier).

This is a repeat of the very popular hike last year, ask those who were present then how much fun it was! The autumn colors of South Park should be at their height. Please pre register so we will know how much ice cream to make! Registration elsewhere in the newsletter. Organizers: Gudy Gaskill (526-0809) and Charlotte Briber (756-0787).

CT Board Member Under the Weather

We are sad to announce that Dr Hugo Ferchau, professor of biology at Western State College in Gunnison and Colorado Trail Foundation board member, was hospitalized for several weeks in April. Dr Ferchau has been involved with the Colorado Trail since its beginning in the mid-1970s, chairs the CTF Educational Committee, has lead many students out for week long field studies on the CT and has always been an incredible and knowledgeable resource for the Foundation. We wish him the best during his convalescence.

1990 Trail Crew Potluck Reunion

All trail crew volunteers mark your calendar now to attend the 1990 trail crew reunion on Sunday September 9, 1990 at the Clements Center from 6PM to 10PM. Bring a potluck dish, your pictures or slides from the trail crews and the funny, ironic stories from the crews we all have to tell. And of course we’ll have either folk dancing or a small band. These potluck trail crew reunions have been some of the best attended Colorado Trail events, other than the trail crews themselves, of course.

The Clements Center is located one block north of Colfax on Yarrow Street (north of the Withering Heights Restaurant), Yarrow Street intersects Colfax one block west of the corner of Colfax and Wadsworth. We look forward to seeing you there!

Escape Week-End in Winter Park

Spend a retreat in an Austrian home, the ALPEN ROSE B & B, located in a beautiful setting in the heart of Winter Park. Have breakfast on a deck overlooking Perry and James Peaks, and sit in front of a glowing fire in the cool of the evening. Attend the Jazz Festival in July or ride the miles of mountain bike trail paths surrounding Winter Park.

Or just come up to get away from the hot city and the bustle. A special is offered to supporters of the Colorado Trail. Room with private bath is $27.50 per person, double occupancy. Shared bath with private room is $22.50 per person double occupancy. Each room is steeped with Austrian charm. Clip this article and present it to Sonja. Report of Pancake Breakfast

The All-User Pancake Breakfast on Saturday May 19 was an outstanding success, attracting a crowd of over one hundred to the Meadows Campground on the Colorado Trail just outside Buffalo Creek. Present were hikers, backpackers, mountain runners, mountain bicyclists and horseback riders, all representing a different trail user group. Throughout the morning, all were mingling amongst each other sharing their interests and concerns of the Colorado Trail.

Present also were member of the Colorado Trail Foundation Board of Directors, to answer more administrative questions that anyone had, and to listen to the user's ideas on the trail.

Plenty of mouth watering pancakes and syrup, muffins and bacon washed down with orange juice and Irene's "sock it to 'em" coffee complimented the beautiful spring morning under the towering ponderosas. People were coming and going from 8AM to 12 noon, most taking the opportunity to get a little exercise on the trail before and/or after the breakfast. Many made their way to the campground in typical user style, either biking, horseback riding, running, etc from an access point somewhere else along the trail.

This breakfast wouldn't have been possible without Charlotte Briber who organized the event and to Irene Cazer and Bonnie Straight who helped her. Thanks go to the Scoff's and Teet's who flipped the pancakes; and to Merle McDonald for setting up the tables and stoves. This was so much fun that the Spring All-User Pancake Breakfast might become an annual event!
NEEDED:
Leaders for the Breathtaking Event....

On August 5, 1990 the entire 469 mile Colorado Trail from Denver to Durango will be hiked-biked-run-backpacked in one spectacular effort in 53 segments by 53 corporation teams to benefit the Webb-Waring Lung Institute. All sections of the Colorado Trail will be sponsored by corporations, individuals or businesses at $100 per mile; then, leaders for those sponsored sections will hike (bike, run, backpack) the section along with the funding sponsor. This way the entire Colorado Trail will be covered on that day, Sunday August 5th; the Breathtaking Event!

With 100% sponsorship in place, Colorado Trail Foundation president Gudy Gaskill, is organizing leaders to guide the sponsored trips on the pristine Colorado Trail. The Breathtaking Event will also heighten the awareness and the importance of lung capacities as people make their way along the lofty Colorado Trail!

The Colorado Trail Foundation will also benefit from the Breathtaking Event through publicity of the event, public relations due to the extensive media coverage planned for the event, contacts leading to potential future fund raising and a monetary donation from Webb-Waring.

The Waterton Canyon segment, the section of the trail closest to Denver, will be lead by former Governor Richard Lamm who is the Honorary Chairman of the event and a member of the Colorado Trail Foundation board of directors. He will be joined by Viisha Sedlak of Boulder, a world record holder Olympic Marathon race walker, Colorado Trail president Gudy Gaskill and Dr John E Repine, Director of the 65 year old Webb-Waring Institute for biomedical research. Clean Air Colorado has lent their name in support of this energetic event. "Without clean air, our future health is at risk," states Dr Repine.

We are still needing leaders willing to guide the corporate, business or individual teams along the length of the Colorado Trail for the Breathtaking Event. Would you, as a dedicated supporter of the Colorado Trail and as one who is best able to pass on to the funding sponsors the enthusiasm we all feel for this unique outdoor resource, consider leading a section of the trail for the Breathless Event? As a leader of a section of the trail for the Breathless Event, you would be honored at a reception in October where Governor Lamm will be the keynote speaker.

We are enthusiastic about the Breathless Event because it will cast the Colorado Trail in a very favorable position, highlight its obvious potential for healthy multiple-faceted recreation and focus on its magnificent scenery. For more information on the Breathless Event, contact Gudy Gaskill, 548 Pine Song Trail, Golden CO 80401, 303-526-0809.

Sargents Mesa
Your CT Trail Crew Leader

Did you ever give any thought as to what goes into being a leader for a Colorado Trail trail crew? Over the years, we have been extremely fortunate to have cultivated many very competent and dedicated people who consent to lead the trail crews. Good, informed, well organized leaders don’t just happen, they are cultivated for their unique qualities. It might be interesting to note that many of our leaders, in addition to the extensive amount of trail building experience gained over the years on the crews, have also had trail building training from such organizations as the USFS, Student Conservation Association, etc.

Every spring, prior to the trail crews, all the leaders get together for a rap session to discuss their experiences, ideas and problem solving, and to work out any necessary logistics between the crews. Over the years, this close knit group of individuals has been able to work well together welcoming and kindly initiating any new leaders into the fold, coordinating as needed locally with the Forest Service and instructing the trail crew volunteers at their trail building tasks.

This year’s leaders day was Saturday May 19 at the Gaskill residence on Lookout Mountain. Round table discussions ranged from the sometimes delicate position leaders find themselves in when dealing with volunteers (facilitated by Gudy Gaskill); reviewing food planning, buying and menus (facilitated by Denise Wright); and crew equipment and logistics (facilitated by Lynn Mattingly). There was also a review of trail building standards and techniques. And this year Hugh Duffy, landscape architect with the NPS and CT crew leader, has compiled a four volume leader’s manual to make the trail crews run even more smoothly.

Please...

So please don’t take your trail crew leader for granted, they are individuals who through experience, character and training are committed to both the volunteers and the Colorado Trail.

Merle and Lynn

Irene

Many thanks!

The CTF would be in dire straights if it were not for the generosity of individuals and organizations over the years. We’ve received camp equipment, food, services even two vehicles. And most lately we would like to thank the following for their support......

Ted and Patty Berri have donated their picnic awning and portable, collapsible shower stall to the CTF. Ted and Patti are long time campers and CT supporters and they know how much we appreciate the comforts of camp that they have tested over the years.

The CTF has just received from the USFS a much needed cache of tools, including: a buck saw for clearing huge downfall trees within wilderness areas (powersaws are not allowed in wildernesses), several smaller saws for clearing brush and limbs, several hard hats, a 20# sledge, and a wood router for making directional signs. This gift of tools is of obvious advantage to our organization, thanks to the USFS!

MONK ON THE TRAIL

The following letter was received by trail crew volunteer Bob Kinter in response to an acquaintance he struck with a Franciscan, after having met the Friar on the CT near Searle Pass. We think it interesting enough to reprint here....... "Dear Bob,

I want to thank you for the card that you sent to me last year at my Canon City address. I'm sorry that it has taken me nearly four months to answer it. I was in Denver over the Christmas holidays and was meaning to give you a call, only to discover after I arrived that I left your letter here in New Mexico.

I did finish the trail, arriving in Durango on August 17. I would have to admit that my favorite part of the trail was the section from above Lake City to Durango. The San Juans are, of course, magnificent and while I had driven through sections, this was the first time that I had hiked through that area. The entire hike, though, was magnificent and gave me a better appreciation of Colorado - even though towards the end I didn’t really care if I ever saw another mountain in my life. At least that’s how I felt during the last six miles.

It was a time of reflection for me as well. I had expected to meet a lot of people on the trail and was surprised to discover that there were so few. But on the plus side, it gave me ample time for reflection and one of the decisions was to leave the monastery and transfer to the Franciscans which is why I am presently in New Mexico.

I truly enjoyed the conversation with you and Bob and want to thank you again for the work you and the other volunteers did to make the Colorado Trail a reality. I truly believe that even for those who haven’t the opportunity ever to walk the entire trail, it is good to know that there is such a thing. And for the rest of us who have had, or will have, the opportunity to hike, it can be life transforming...."

CT ROAD MAPS AVAILABLE

We now have a reduced road map available with the Colorado Trail drawn through the state. You can plot your progress on the map or areas that you have completed. Cost us a quarter to print. We’ll check on the postage if they have to be tube mailed. Folded and they’re yours for a half buck.

CTF Master Plan Public Forum

On Thursday, June 14 the Colorado Trail Foundation and the USFS are holding a joint meeting to explore the future of the Colorado Trail in the ground floor auditorium at the USFS Regional Office, 8th and Quail, Lakewood CO (2 blks N of 6th and 2 blks east of Simms).

We are holding this public forum in order to have your input into what each of us envisions the Colorado Trail to become. The Colorado Trail Foundation is compiling data for use in the CT Master Plan and is seeking input with the users of the trail and the supporting communities. We would be pleased if you could make the meeting and share your thoughts with the group. Refreshments and coffee will be served. Hope to see you there.

Announcing...

CTF to Sponsor Condensed Guide Book

Day Hikes on the Colorado Trail

The Colorado Trail Foundation, having published the Colorado Trail guidebook and maps, is about to sponsor the publishing of a condensed 60 page guide to the Colorado Trail that will feature 24 color photographs in a convenient day pack size format. Day Hikes on the Colorado Trail will be published by Renaissance House and will be part of their American Traveler Series, will retail for $4.95 and will debut in Spring 1991.

Author Janet Robertson of Boulder is the past president of the Colorado Mountain Club Foundation, and author of The Magnificent Mountain Women (University of Nebraska, 1990). Day Hikes will feature selected sections and anecdotes along the entire length of the Colorado Trail, as opposed to the comprehensive guidebook that the CTF has published since 1988. We believe that Day Hikes will compliment the current publications offered by the Foundation. Watch for further updates on Day Hikes on the Colorado Trail in future editions of Treadlines.
Kudos

KUDOS to MARION STORTZ for shrink wrapping the books and maps prior to sale. It's a time consuming and thankless job. Don't they look nice one the counter?
KUDOS to AL MAUTHA for doing the last two bulk mailing by himself. Also for once again handling the trail crew coordinator job. You've become quite the computer expert!
KUDOS to ANN HERBERT for helping Liz Truitt post the entries and checks. Volunteering to learn bookkeeping is a challenge!

New Zealand Adventure
Oct. 24-Nov. 9
Nestled deep in the South Pacific, New Zealand offers a wealth of spectacular scenery of tropical rainforests, sandy white bays, magnificent fiords and alps-a land of awesome beauty and contrasts. The trip will have its own flexible tour bus and native driver-guide, and will be a combination of hiking, sightseeing, and exploring some out of the way places. The tour will concentrate on the enchanting South Island. The land cost is $885, with the air fare around $1200. Contact the CTF office for a complete itinerary. Polly Gaskill is the leader.

AMERICAN HIKING SOCIETY ANNUAL MEETING
October 12-14
Estes Park -Camp of the Rockies

All hikers are invited to attend the AHS annual Hike-In and conference this fall. An exciting itinerary of workshops and seminars are planned as well as folk dancing, a giant auction and just plain fun! Mountain Photography workshop by John Fielder, a workshop on writing stories for magazines, llama packing, trail assessment etc. will be covered. For more information or application contact Gudy Gaskill at the CTF address.

Prepare yourself for a great adventure! The Colorado Trail Foundation still has a few openings on the epic 2 week vehicle supported trek on the Colorado Trail July 14-28.
A base camp will be set up every night, with hot meals provided. Your personal gear, tent and sleeping bag will be transported around. There will be a rest or climb day each week, with some short days, and time to relax. We allow ample time along the way for taking pictures and exploring old mines and historical spots. There will also be a few long days with 18 to 21 miles of fairly easy going trail.
It's an easy way to cover 70 to 75 beautiful miles on this scenic trail. A vacation to remember!
We expect each participant to be in good physical condition and not expect to get in shape hiking on the trail. You must be a strong B (CMC rating system) hiker or better. Last summer, Margarit Wyss, 72 years of age, hiked all 160 miles of the trek. She hiked the local Jefferson County trails to get in shape. Congratulations Margaret!
For more information, contact: Lynn Mattingly (443-4396) or Polly Gaskill (526-0809).

Gives Matching Fund Grant

Cindy Johnson, a dedicated trail crew volunteer and Diana Johnson, trail crew volunteer and adoptee of section 10 (Georgia Pass to Tiger Run) have both been awarded matching funds for the hours that they contributed to the Colorado Trail last summer by US West. The checks were awarded to the Colorado Trail Foundation this past week by both Diana and Cindy. US West matches funds for volunteer services by their employees. Both Diana and Cindy took the time out to fill in the application in behalf of the CT Foundation. Congratulations to both of the ladies, we are all winners!

If your place of employment has a program of matching funds, please check into it. This could give you public recognition and it could give the CT the boost that it needs. (We'll even put your picture in this newsletter, as a person who CARES!)
